PHILOSOPHY: Track Days events provide an environment for drivers who simply want to increase the enjoyment of driving their vehicle. For most drivers all it takes to be a part is your safe street car, a valid driver's license and an approved helmet.

That's it. The goal is to give you a thrilling experience and stories to share, all from an environment which gives everyone a level to feel comfortable. It is not to give a high pressure experience and high stakes of "winning." Track Days events are not races - any on-track passes are limited to specific passing zones and only with a signal known as a "point-by."

You may request instruction while you're there. This instruction often comes in the form of how to safely enjoy driving yourself around the track, rather than how to drive at the limit. Think etiquette, how to learn a driving line, passing zones and general techniques – which may allow you to move from a novice to intermediate or advanced groupings, as you feel comfortable.

These rules are intended to assist the orderly conduct of a motorsports activity and are in no way a guarantee against injury or death to participants, spectators or others. Motorsports are inherently dangerous. You can reduce risk by driving well, by properly using superior safety gear, by paying attention, and by reporting unsatisfactory issues to the event officials.

There is a considerable gap between a minimum standard and the best protection that current technology can provide. It is recommended that seats, restraint systems, roll bars, and helmets meet the highest safety standards possible.

The entrant is responsible for ensuring that the vehicle being used is properly prepared for operation under elevated acceleration, braking and cornering forces. At time of registration, each entrant should have a Tech inspection sheet completed, signed and available. See Appendix A for a printable copy of the Tech Sheet.
